"Strangler" Lewis. The Strangler, who claims the American heavyweight championship because Roller refused to make a match with him in Rochester recently, is a veritable "demon" mat man, and has beat such good ones as Cyclone Burns, Fred Beel, Jesse Westergard. Bob Fredericks and Charles Hackenschmidt and has draws with Gotch and Zybsko. Mike Donnelly is a popular local favorite, and is known far and wide as the cleanest grappler ever seen here. M'CREARY OPPOSED TO PLAN

Norfolk Owner Was Willing to Accept Pennant for First Season, but Fearful of the Results to Count Games Two Ways.

Virginia League teams will fight it out along the same lines all summer. The club owners, at the meeting last night in the Richmond Hotel, declined to split the season into two parts, leaving things just as they stand. It may result in the loss of Portsmouth, as the new owners of that club are about willing to throw up the sponge. The situation, they state, is serious. The matter caused a discussion of more than two hours, and the whole proposition was blocked by Dr. Mc-Creary, the Norfolk owner, who positively refused to accede to the substitute plan offered by the Petersburk in-Creary, the Norfolk owner, who postively refused to accede to the substitute plan offered by the Petersburg interests, although he had previously been in favor of splitting the schedule. Under the first plan. Norfolk would have been declared the pennant winner immediately. Here the clubs for another month is the other clubs for another month. Here the roll of the club, although it has a four and one-half game lead. He was perfectly willing, however, to take the pennant on a platter, even after every representative had implored him to show a sportsmanlike spirit.

There was no need for the lucky seventh yesterday afternoon; nor, as a matter of fact, was there any need for the eighth or the ninth frames.
The reason is apparent when it is made known that the Colts pounded out five runs in the sixth round, and thereby copped a pretty game of ball from Heinie Busch and his Petersburg Goobers. The score at the end of the conflict stood 8 to 3.
